French artist Anilore Banon poses next to a model of her sculpture "The Braves", which will be installed on Omaha Beach to celebrate the 60th anniversary of D-Day in June 2004, at her studio in Paris Thursday, Nov. 13, 2003. The 29-meter-long (90 feet) monumental works celebrate the "Braves" who landed on Normandy beaches in 1944 to start the liberation of France, and further on of Europe, from the nazi barbarism.
